

Enter for a chance to win up to $750!

Are you concerned about environmental health around Tracy and western San Joaquin County? Do you like making short, informative videos? Are you under 25? Then you should submit to our video contest!

Tri-Valley CAREs, the hosting organization for this Youth Video Contest, seeks youth perspectives on environmental issues!

This 2024 theme is “Environmental Issues in Tracy, CA and western San Joaquin County.” Tri-Valley CAREs works on addressing the impacts from Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory’s Site 300 High Explosives Testing Range located in Tracy. There was recently a wildfire that started on the site, burned important cleanup infrastructure and then moved offsite, burning over 14,000 acres. Site 300 and its impacts could be a topic that videos cover.

However, the possible topics are plentiful. The cumulative environmental impacts of rapid growth, industrial emissions, agricultural impacts, and climate change are increasingly impacting the region’s environment. Traditionally, youth perspectives have largely been left out of the decision making on these issues and the discussions about solutions to environmental problems.

Guidelines

- Runtime: Video submissions must be 4-6 minutes long, including any credits.
- Style: Submissions can be in any style or genre, including animation, drama, comedy, musical, or documentary.
- Eligibility: Contestants must be 14-24 years old.
- More Guidelines At: <http://tinyurl.com/2024videos>

More info: Scott Yundt - scott@trivalleycares.org - (925) 443-7148

Presented by Tri-Valley CAREs

www.trivalleycares.org

